

The Benefits of Building Green are Direct, Regional and Global

Building green provides a range of benefits, from the personal to the global – economic and environmental advantages for families, communities, and the entire planet

